

Fencing - Gameproof Fencing Style H694 - Rufford

This style of gameproof fencing is featured in both the Victorian Garden Catalogue and the catalogue of the Bayliss, Jones & Bayliss Company of Wolverhampton and London, renowned for their Iron and Steel, Plain and Ornamental Railings and Gates.

Both decorative and functional, they were intended for inclusion in pleasure gardens where they could enclose flower beds, shrubberies and ornamental waters.

According to the original publicity, These hurdles make a neat guard against rabbits for enclosing shrubberies, also for borders in private gardens, recreation grounds and public parks.

This style of fencing (also referred to as H694 in the Bayliss directory) is available in two sizes, the length is the same but they vary in height.

Dimensions

Medium

Height 900mm

Length 1900mm

Large

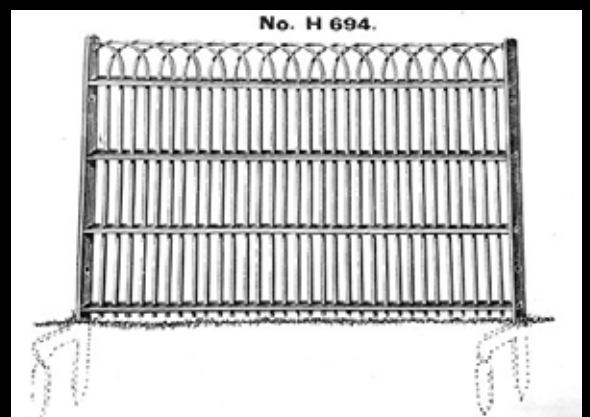

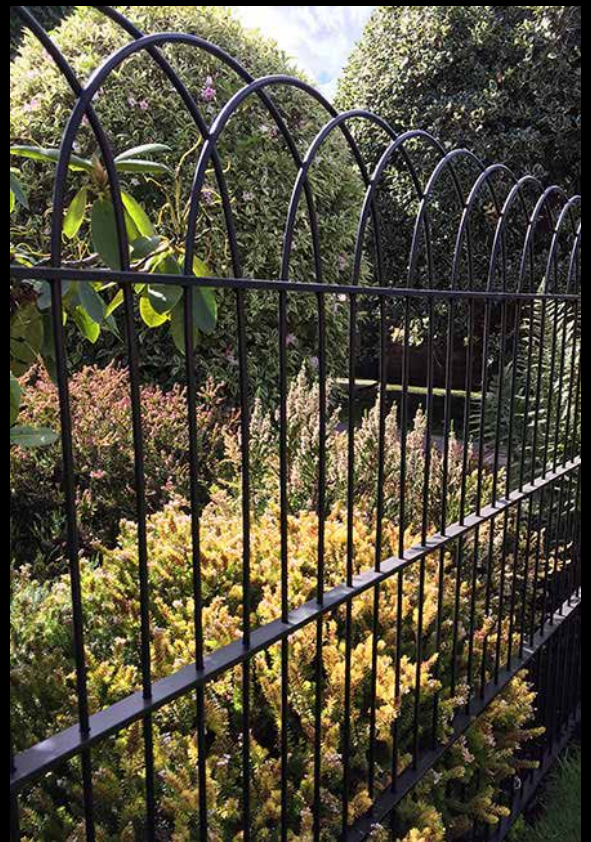

Height 1090mm

Length 1900mm

Note: this refers to the visible height, there are legs that are inserted into the ground.

For pleasure grounds, enclosing flower beds, shrubberies, ornamental waters etc. These hurdles make a neat guard against rabbits for enclosing shrubberies, also for borders in private gardens, recreation grounds and public parks.

It is electroplated for protection against corrosion prior to powder coated, providing extended life and lower maintenance requirements. All items are finished in black.

LOST ART
HISTORIC LANDSCAPE FURNISHINGS

Lost Art Limited, 1 Yewdale Crescent, Wigan, Lancashire, WN1 2HP, U.K.

T 01257 464601

E office@lost-art.co.uk

W www.lost-art.co.uk